

~ Kristen Borak ~

Kristen is an accomplished early childhood teacher with over 14 years experience specializing in literacy development. She has taught in almost every early childhood setting from Young fives to Second grade, including looping situations. Working with such a wide range of ages has afforded Kristen a unique understanding of early literacy development and how one can successfully implement strategies no matter the age or ability.

Kristen has experienced professional successes out of the classroom as well. As a former literacy coordinator, she has had opportunities to both assist in the development of new curriculum and present and support staff during these transitions. In addition, Kristen has served as a mentor to novice teachers. Currently Kristen is working as a teaching consultant for the East Grand Rapids School District.

Kristen is a motivational speaker who is able to tie current research to practical classroom application.
